

POLITICO

New York Playbook

BY JEFF COLTIN, NICK REISMAN AND EMILY NGO

○ SOCIAL DATA

Edited by Daniel Lippman

MAKING MOVES: Amid plans to make $100 million in grants this year to strengthen democracy, The JPB Foundation announced six new hires: Deepak Bhargava as president,

Make the Road New York's Daniel Altschuler as chief of staff; Deborah Axt as senior vice president of community and worker power; Jason Garrett as senior vice president of faith, bridging, and belonging; Alicia Garza as senior vice president of movement infrastructure and explorations; Arianna Jiménez as senior vice president of democracy, gender, and racial justice; and Deepak Pateriya as senior vice president of program strategy and management.

... Jihoon Kim has been named CEO of the InUnity Alliance. He was Rochelle Rodney, director of advocacy for the NY Birth Control Access Project, has been promoted to co-executive director.